2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)

This report is based on the claims as filed with the letter of 2004-08-31.

Prior art

Reference is made to the following document:

D1:US 4635162 A

Document D1 discloses an arrangement relating to a sensor plate (2) and a device for holding the sensor plate comprising a guide rod (5) with an integrated (film)holding element (1) for the sensor plate (film) for dental X-raying purposes. The guide rod also comprises a bite wing (3) and an alignment assisting element (7). The device also discloses an element (50) with elements (51,52,53) intended for engagement with the film holding element in at least three different positions. The sensor plate is detachable from the element (50). (See for example the abstract, column 4, line 30-49 and figures 1 and 6.)

Statement of reason

The invention according to claims 1-9 discloses an arrangement relating to a sensor plate for dental X-ray purposes. The invention includes an arrangement of several elements which in co-action with a holder gives a number of possible positioning options when performing dental examinations.

Supplemental Box

In case the space in any of the preceding boxes is not sufficient.
Continuation of: Box V

The amended claims filed with the letter of 2004-08-31 differ from the claims as originally filed in that the features of the engagement elements are now clearly specified in independent claim 1.

Document D1 discloses an arrangement relating to a sensor plate for dental X-raying purposes, where the engagement elements are detachably coupled to the sensor plate. This known arrangement is similar to the claimed arrangement. However, the document D1 does not disclose any engagement elements which are fixed to the sensor plate, as defined in present claim 1. It is not considered obvious to a person skilled in the art to change the arrangement of the above mentioned document so as to reach an arrangement as the one claimed in the present application.

The invention according to claims 1-9 is thus novel and is considered to involve an inventive step. The invention according to claims 1-9 is industrially applicable.

CLAIMS

An arrangement relating to a sensor plate for dental X-raying purposes, wherein the sensor plate (10;10';10'';10''') for example is of a digital or analogue type and is intended for one-time use or for many-times use, characterised in that the sensor plate (10;10';10'';10''') includes or carries elements (30,31;30',31';61-64;80-82;90;95) that are intended for engagement with a plate holding element (40) in at least three different positions (A-F), and in that the engagement elements (30',31';61-64;80-82;90;95) are fixed on the sensor plate (10';10'';10''').

2. An arrangement according to Claim 1, characterised in that the engagement elements (30,31) of the sensor plate are arranged at side elements (21-24).

3. An arrangement according to Claim 1 or 2, characterised in that the engagement elements (30,31) are detachable from the sensor plate (10).

4. An arrangement according to Claim 1, characterised in that the engagement elements include openings (71-78;90;95) in the sensor plate (10''').

5. An arrangement according to Claim 1, characterised in that the engagement elements comprise wire-like elements (61-64).

6. An arrangement according to any one of Claims 1-5, characterised in that the plate holding element (40) includes grooves (51,52) for engagement with the sensor plate engagement elements (30,31;30',31';61-64;80-82).

7. An arrangement according to any one of Claims 1-6, characterised in that the plate holding element (40) includes a biting plate (45).

8. An arrangement according to any one of Claims 1-7, characterised in that the plate holding element (40) includes a holding pin (41) and an alignment assisting element (46).

9. An arrangement according to any one of Claims 1-8, characterised in that the sensor plate (10;10';10'';10''') is adapted to engage the holding element (40) in six different positions (A-F).
